Introduction and special features

Developed for the industry of the future and delivered by academics with relevant professional experience, this course offers you the opportunity to explore the theories and creative concepts behind global fashion marketing with the emphasis on the needs of a new digital era.

The course offers you a balanced mix of academic and creative challenges through the York campus and strong industry links. The course will provide you with highly desirable professional skills creating a strong advantage on graduation in the employment market. The course has been created with a flexible, reactive delivery that is responsive to industry demands. This innovative approach includes the development of content creation skills and how to exploit the potential of social media, how to transform consumer insights from rich data into future fashion trends, and how to manage creativity across disciplines in the industry.

This will prepare you for the digitally savvy consumers that are disrupting and transforming global fashion markets, an invaluable asset for the employer of the future.

The course delivery includes content from industry specialists through guest lectures and you will be given the chance to work on live fashion briefs. You will be prepared for their chosen career by developing your essential digital skills that will creatively communicate concepts and ideas through the use of industry standard software, alongside the ever growing need to analyse and interpret data. You will be given the chance to develop your personal brand identity and career potential by working with them to create a strong digital CV and portfolio of work.

As signatories to PRME (Principles for Responsible Management Education), York Business School are committed to integrating corporate responsibility and sustainability within all operations. PRME is a United Nations initiative seeking to inspire and champion responsible management education, research and thought leadership globally. Continuing professional development

You are strongly encouraged to undertake Continuing Professional Development throughout your studies to prepare you for the world of work. You will be able to develop a range of academic and professional skills through a range of activities, exercises and events under the guise of 'Success Lab' which will help you to progress through the course and into the job market and provide the work-based skills employers require.

Success Lab, a three-year programme that runs alongside your degree, has been developed in partnership with leading graduate recruiters and industry leaders. You will attend events and short courses that are offered in addition to your degree. We will offer you additional qualifications and experience in areas that are important for employers such as public speaking, Sage accounting and copywriting.

You will be offered the chance to attend exhibitions and make visits, to take part in our leadership and management programme and to attend a series of inspiring lectures with executive speakers. In the past we have hosted CEOs and Chief Executives from Pandora, Royal Mail, ASDA and Welcome to Yorkshire among others.

Study abroad

You have the opportunity (subject to meeting the University threshold standards) to undertake a semester or full year abroad² as part of your studies during your second year.²

Learning, teaching and assessment

All modules are delivered utilising a range of teaching, learning and assessment strategies including lectures, seminars, guest speakers, tutorials, workshops and a range of events and learning activities.

You are supported initially in the use of guided learning strategies in Level 4 developing towards autonomous, well-judged use of collaborative and independent learning strategies in Levels 5 and 6.

You will undertake a variety of assessments which include the use of written assignments (often in the form of reports), individual and group presentations and practical activities. An essential part of the assessment is to encourage both learning and the development of skills as well as preparing you for the requirements of the workplace.

You will have opportunities for formative assessment and feedback to inform your work prior to submission and you will receive detailed feedback on assessments to help you develop and continuously improve your performance whilst on the programme. Advice will be provided in relation to development, further areas for research and guidance on how to enhance your knowledge of business and practice.

You will have the opportunity for study support including academic writing and research skills to enhance employability and career development in the field of Fashion Marketing.

As a graduate searching for employment, you will likely come across the term transferable skills. Employers value these skills because they can be used in so many ways in the workplace. If you want to secure a graduate opportunity, you are going to have to demonstrate a specific set of skills needed for the role. Some of these skills will be specific to the industry while others (transferable skills) are those that you can build on and develop throughout your career. York Business School, seeks to develop and enhance your skills in communication, problem solving and team working through teaching, learning and assessment activities and the opportunities to engage in a range of activities which will not only support this but which will provide clear evidence of your achievement of them.
