The accessibility support service – an overview

Users of our Accessibility Support service may borrow up to 35 items from the Library at any one time, including Artefact Kits and Story Sacks from the School Library. Dependent on circumstances, other entitlements may include:

- Automatic renewals on your items (unless someone else needs them, or after 26 renewals)
- 1–1 support from your Academic Liaison Librarians
- Access to Digital Training support with drop-in sessions
- Request books to be collected from the Service Desk
- Request that anything from one page to a whole book from the Library be scanned into an accessible PDF format for use during your course (please refer to page 10 for criteria requirements)
- Borrow assistive equipment from the Information Services desk

This booklet will take you through the support available, how to access it, and what you can expect from the Library.

In this booklet:

- telephone numbers are introduced by T:
- email addresses introduced by E:
- website locations are introduced with W: and are formatted with the main website address, followed by an arrow, and the page name you need.

Welcome to Fountains

Library and Learning Services are based in the Fountains Learning Centre. All of our services can be accessed from the Information Services desk, which is located on the Ground Floor of Fountains. You can also get in touch with us by phone or email.

The staff on the Information Services desk can help you with any queries regarding the Library, IT or printing.

Help using the library

If you require help using the Library, you can book an appointment with a member of Information Services desk staff by either emailing or calling us. Alternatively, drop-in to the Information Services desk.

Nominated collection and postal loans

If you would like a friend or support worker to be able to collect items from the Library on your behalf, please contact us to arrange this. We will need:

- details from your student ID
- details from your nominated borrower or other ID, if they are not a York St John University student

Your nominated borrower will need to show their ID and your student card each time they borrow on your behalf.

As a registered accessibility support user, you are eligible to use our postal loans service. You will need to register separately for this service if you wish to use it. Once registered you can request up to 30 books per year be sent to your home address. Please ask us for more information.

Please note: Payment of fines, and fine-related queries, cannot be addressed by your nominated borrower. As a student, you must pay your own fines either in person, via your Library Catalogue account, or by telephone. All payments are cashless. If you have a query about your fines, please email Library and Learning Services.

Tutorials and classes

Digital Skills

The Digital Training Tutors offer a range of courses and individual support via email, bookable sessions and 1-1 tutorials. Visit the Digital Training web page for further information and to book tutorials.

Our Digital Training Officer for Assistive Technology is here to provide specialist help, advice and training on the use of assistive software and technology for students and staff at York St John University. Software to support your note-taking, reading, planning and writing is available on campus.

Study Development

Our Study Development tutors are here to help you in a dedicated tutorial environment, as well as in workshops and study retreats. In your tutorial, a Study Development tutor will help you with your academic work, including:

- helping improve your study and learning strategies;
- reflecting on your planning process;
- developing your academic and reflective writing skills.
- developing your maths and statistics skills
- learning proof-reading and editing skills
- exploring time management and revision strategies

Book a tutorial online, or send any questions or queries about the service to the team by email.

How do I use the accessibility support service?

You can register for the Accessibility Support Service using the sign up form on our Supporting Accessibility webpage. This form asks you some questions which helps us to understand which services may be most appropriate to you. We will record some basic information on your library account which helps library staff to know which support you are receiving.

W: yorks.ac.uk/library  Get accessibility help

If you are receiving support from the Disability Advice Team, situated in Holgate, they may complete this form with you to register you with our Accessibility Support Service during your initial meetings as part of putting together your Learning Support Plan (LSP).

You will receive a welcome email from the Library's Disability Link who will outline what is available to you and will connect you with your Academic Liaison Librarian.

Accessing resources

There are lots of resources available to you to help your studies; you will find these by searching on the library catalogue. Many ebooks and e-resources are DRM-free which means you can download them in PDF (and sometimes other formats) and use them with assistive technologies. You can also use SensusAccess to convert files into a format you need.

Getting support

Many resources may already be accessible to you and your needs. If a resource you need is not accessible to you, your librarian and/or an Digital Trainer can help.

Academic Liaison Librarian

Your Academic Liaison Librarian will help you learn about alternative formats and the accessibility tools in different e-resources and ebooks. Meeting with them is a great step in getting more tailored support in making resources accessible to you.

RNIB bookshare

If an ebook is not accessible to you, then RNIB (Royal National Institute of Blind People) Bookshare may be able to provide you with the book in an accessible format to you (such as PDF, Word, EPUB, Daisy etc.).

You can choose to sign up for an RNIB Bookshare when you sign up to the Library's Accessibility Support Service, or by contacting your Academic Liaison Librarian.

Sign in to your RNIB Bookshare account to find and download accessible books.

Scanning and accessible files service

If you wish to read a book or a journal and it is not accessible to you (and is not available through RNIB Bookshare) then Library and Learning Services can help.

In the first instance, we will attempt to source an accessible version. If this is not possible, we provide a scanning service for students who are unable to scan items themselves.

We can scan up to an entire book in order to create an accessible digital file. If your disability means digital files are not appropriate for you, please contact us about alternative formats.

To qualify for this service, you must fit the criteria of a disabled or visually impaired user as defined by the Equality Act 2010 and the Copyright, Designs and Patents Act 1988. In order to make an accessible copy, we must have access to the material, and it must require alterations that make it more accessible for your needs.

To make a request please fill out our form, available from the Accessibility Support Services pages at:
