

Please note, this is a quick guide to citing and referencing using the MLA (8th edition) referencing style. For more detailed examples, please go to Cite Them Right Online, or see the guidance on the MLA Style Center.

Your referencing includes two main parts:

- a citation within the text of your assignment
- a list of references or bibliography at the end of your assignment

In-text citations

MLA in-text citations should:

1. Identify the source of the information, e.g. author's name or a brief title. Use whichever information appears first in the full reference for the item.
2. Identify the location where the information was found, e.g. page number(s), chapter number(s), or time. For some items that have no pagination or other division, such as web pages or online articles, it may be appropriate to leave out this element of the reference.

Examples:

Book/journal article	(Atwood 83–4)
E-book without pagination	(Austen Ch. 5)
Film ( title in italics )	( Alien 00:24:13–18)
Web page	(York St John University)

Where multiple items by the same author are cited, you should also provide additional distinguishing information, such as a brief title. (Where titles are used, use either italics or “quote marks” depending on how the title appears in the full reference.)

Book/journal article with distinguishing information	(Atwood, Negotiating 83–4)
------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------

Key reference examples

Full information about the source is then provided in the bibliography or reference list at the end of the document.

Books

Format	Author. Book title in italics . Publisher, Date.
Example	Atwood, Margaret. Negotiating with the dead: a writer on writing . Cambridge University Press, 2002.

Journal articles

Format	Author. “Article title in quote marks.” Journal title in italics , Volume, Number, Date, Page range.
Example	Cowan, Brian William. “Mr. Spectator and the Coffeehouse Public Sphere.” Eighteenth-Century Studies , vol. 37, no. 3, 2004, pp. 345–366.

Web pages

Format	Author/corporate author. “Web page title in quote marks.” Website where the page is hosted in italics , Date, URL. Date of access.
Example	Modern Language Association of America. “Works Cited: A Quick Guide.” The MLA Style Center , 2018, https://style.mla.org/works-cited-a-quick-guide/ . Accessed 13 Nov. 2018.

Chapter in an edited book

---

Format	Author. "Chapter title in quote marks." Book title in italics , edited by Editor, Publisher, Date, Page range.
Example	Robins, Fred C. "Beowulf." The Cambridge companion to Old English Literature , edited by Malcolm Godden, Cambridge University Press, 2006, pp. 142–159.

---

Film

---

Format	Film title in italics . Directed by Director, Film studio/distributor, Date.
Example	Alien . Directed by Ridley Scott, 20th Century Fox, 1979.

---

Other resources

Referencing examples for further resources can be found on Cite Them Right Online. For resources not listed, you can construct a reference using the following template as a guide:

---

Author. "Title of source in quote marks." Optional element if applicable. Title of container in italics, Other contributors, Version, Number, Publisher, Publication date, Location.

---