

Values Identifier

EXPLORE

Working within an organisation with values aligned to our own can result in feeling fulfilled and satisfied in our work. Taking time to recognise your values can contribute to your career decision making process. Select five values/key words, from the list below, that align closely to you. Use the space on the side to write any other values or anti-values (values that you feel you do not identify with). It may be useful to write down reasons why you believe these are your values and anti-values.
