Introduction and special features

The Master of Business Administration (MBA) is an internationally recognised and highly regarded award. Whether you are already in a management position and wanting to take your career to the next level, or aspire to leadership roles in the future, this MBA has been designed to help you develop the skills, knowledge and experience to gain a competitive edge. The programme provides you with the opportunity to gain a practitioner-focused MBA, laying the foundations for critical thinking and providing a holistic overview of business management practices in a global context.

You will explore issues that have significant impact within commercial organisations by working with others, building on personal experiences and comparing and contrasting those with cohort members. You will carry out assignments and case study evaluations designed to help you apply a range of relevant theories, tools and business techniques. Much learning is developed through the establishment of collaborative learning bringing together programme participants and tutors to become part of a joined-up learning community. Your understanding is developed around the key skills, processes and practices of organisational business management. Solutions to real problems are suggested, discussed and critically appraised with the support of tutors and fellow learners.

In developing a critical understanding of business management issues, you will enhance your ability to maximise individual and organisational potential. The MBA programme brings together academic theory and research to develop opportunities for applications to a variety of business organisations, in ways that further support personal and professional development. These will enable you to share knowledge, relate relevant research and learn through practical application.

Special features of the programme include:

- Enables you to develop a sound understanding of the skills necessary to undertake a role in any organisation
- Reflects the aspirations in the development of responsible and ethical managers
- Supports the development in the skills of leadership in order to operate effectively and competently in an international context
- Assessment methods used to mirror organisational based activities
- Provides a supportive platform for critical reflection, through the application of academic theories to your real work situations
- Participation in active and supportive forums drawing on practical expertise
- Excellent personal and academic support
- Focused activities connected with employers and commercial organisations to build expertise and real-world experience
- Opportunities to gain professional experience.

In the Singapore delivery context, College of Allied Educators (CAE) has established industry linkages with partner organisations which operate across areas including technology consulting, digital transformation, and global business services. These partnerships will provide you with exposure to current industry practices and emerging trends within Singapore and the wider Asia-Pacific region.

Industry engagement is embedded within the programme through:

- Guest lectures and practitioner-led sessions, where industry professionals share insights on topics such as digital transformation, strategic management, and cross-border business operations
- Industry-informed case studies and applied assignments, enabling you to analyse and respond to real-world business challenges
- Capstone project alignment with industry contexts, where you will be encouraged to undertake research or consultancy-based projects relevant to their organisations or our industry partners
- Professional networking and industry exposure opportunities, supporting you in understanding employer expectations and career pathways within the region

Through these initiatives, the programme ensures that academic learning is closely integrated with professional practice, enhancing the relevance, applicability, and career outcomes of graduates in the Singapore and regional context.

Admissions criteria

You must meet the minimum entry requirements which are published on the programme specific webpage. In addition, you must have:

- A Bachelor's degree or equivalent, achieved at Class 2:2 or above, from an approved university or institution
- or

- Current or recent work experience (within the last two years) appropriate to enable you to contribute to the programme

If your first language is not English, you need to take an IELTS test or an equivalent qualification accepted by the University (see <https://www.yorks.ac.uk/international/how-to-apply/english-language-requirements/>).

If you do not have traditional qualifications, you may be eligible for entry on the basis of Recognition of prior learning \(RPL\). We also consider applications for entry with advanced standing.

Programme aim(s)

The overall aim of the programme is to develop your critical understanding and self-awareness of the issues relating to business management, so that you may develop your own leadership skills and knowledge and develop both your individual and organisational potential. The programme aims to reflect the aspirations in the development of responsible and ethical managers, supporting development in the skills of leadership in order to operate effectively in an international context.

You will be supported as you:

- Develop critical awareness and understanding of business generally and specifically relating to management
- Develop the ability to connect theory with practice in creative and innovative ways and reflect upon the learning involved as well as the outcomes
- Develop critical awareness and understanding of the role of managers within the context of business sustainability, corporate social responsibility and ethics, helping you undertake effective roles in business organisations as responsible managers
- Develop and enhance life-long learning skills and personal development to work with self-direction and originality.

Learning, teaching and assessment

A key part of the philosophy of the programme is that by bringing together relevant academic theory and practical experience you can enhance understanding of these elements and develop yourself as an individual and as a leader.

All modules are delivered utilising a range of teaching, learning and assessment strategies including lectures, seminars, tutorials, workshops and global café style learning activities. Each module has a Virtual Learning Environment (VLE) where you and other Master's level students will be encouraged to participate in online debate and collaborative approaches to learning.

Some participants may not have been engaged in formal education for some time and may never have studied at postgraduate level: support with study skills, conventions of academic analysis and writing will be available for you from the start of the programme and will continue throughout your studies.

All modules are assessed through a programme of work undertaken whilst studying for the award. A range of assessment tools are used including presentations, critical essays, portfolios and reflective journals and case study work. Each module tutor will provide opportunities for formative assessment feedback to inform your work prior to submission.

You will receive detailed feedback on assessment to help you develop and continuously improve your performance whilst on the programme. Advice will be provided in relation to development, further areas for research and guidance on how to enhance your subject knowledge.

You will receive the opportunity for study support including academic writing and research skills to enhance employability and career development in the field of business management.
