Introduction and Special Features

As the global business environment continues to become increasingly competitive and challenging, businesses need to be more innovative, take more risks and develop sustainable business models that serve their customers and have a positive impact on society's well-being. The BA (Hons) Business Management and Language awards aim to provide you with a critical understanding of the management of organisations and the role of business in contemporary society, while at the same time developing your language skills which will differentiate you in the work place.

Studying the BA (Hons) Business Management and Language awards are a great opportunity to gain a degree that is clearly focused on your long-term career prospects in a wide variety of contexts. Whether you are thinking of setting up your own business, working in a large corporation, the public sector or the ever growing tourist industry you will need to possess an understanding of how businesses operate and how skilled managers can contribute to their success.

Importantly Management is also about people, and we will enable you to develop your own skills as a team player, a group member and ultimately as a manager of other people. Our Business Management with a Language programme allows you to specialise in management and gain an insight in how managers work to meet organisational objectives. Alongside this knowledge you will also develop the skills you will need to be effective in a managerial role.

If you are studying on the BA (Hons) Business Management and Language with placement variant you will undertake a Year in Industry (also known as a sandwich year or placement year), in between your second and third year. The placement may take place in the UK or abroad dependent on suitability, availability and opportunity.

Special features

- An opportunity to develop your language skills while developing a range of business skills to complement them

- Accreditation by the Chartered Management Institute (CMI) giving you a professionally recognised qualification (Level 5 Certificate in Management and Leadership) alongside your degree
- Opportunity to study abroad (compulsory for one semester for all students except British Sign Language) without extending the length of your degree. Students have the option for a longer study abroad subject to meeting the university criteria
- Throughout the course there is regular opportunity to engage with a range of practising managers, organisations, employers and entrepreneurs and take part in work related experiences and internships
- Programme of guest speakers which will enhance your learning and links with the business community
- A 'Year in Industry' (sandwich year) for those on the with placement variant
- Use of 'real life' (live) projects in assessments giving you practical application of the theory
- Opportunity to compete in business simulation competitions both within the University and on national / international scales
- Opportunity to qualify as a Microsoft Office Specialist
- Systematic development of employability skills through a Continuing Professional Development framework (additional qualification on successful completion)
- Access to a range of specialist resources including, Financial Information Database (FAME) and Financial Times Interactive to support learning and research
- Excellent personal and academic support. You will be allocated an academic tutor to support you throughout the programme

Admissions Criteria

You must meet the University's general entry criteria for undergraduate study.

If your first language is not English, you need to take an IELTS test or an equivalent qualification accepted by the University (see <https://www.yorksj.ac.uk/international/how-to-apply/english-language-requirements/>).

If you do not have traditional qualifications, you may be eligible for entry on the basis of Accredited Prior \(Experiential\) Learning \(APL/APEL\).

We also consider applications for entry with advanced standing.

Programme Aims

The BA (Hons) Business Management and Language programme is based on the philosophy that management development should be incremental. At the same time the development of language skills is seen as an important differentiator for the graduate of the future.

The programme encourages you to develop the skills and competences of a future manager. To do this, you should be capable of making management decisions at both a strategic and at a tactical level, emphasising the complexity and dynamics of international culture (and language) and management, and taking cognisance of the integrative nature of the various factors which impinge upon business decisions. The programme incorporates frameworks for reviewing, reflecting, analysing and critiquing existing individual and organisational practices.

The outcome of this process will be a critical appreciation of management and cultural issues, in order to: make justified decisions; apply those decisions in a variety of contexts; communicating the decisions and make integrative links between disciplines and across organisations.

The aims of the programmes are to:

1. prepare you for a career in a rapidly changing business and social environment with the skills needed to adapt and develop as the environment changes;
2. provide a challenging, integrated programme of study that equips you with a sound general knowledge of organisations, their management and the global environments in which they operate, within the context of the guiding principles of the Principles of Responsible Management Education (PRME);
3. provide a vocationally relevant degree with professional recognition;
4. provide you with the opportunity to focus on particular aspects of your studies relevant to your background, interests and career aspirations through a choice of final independent research activity;
5. facilitate the development and demonstration of your language skills and intercultural understanding, alongside your intellectual skills of information-processing, analysis, synthesis, critical appraisal, creativity and innovation and the ability to make decisions in situations of ambiguity and uncertainty;
6. enable you to develop business and management competences and research skills to enhance employability and support career advancement;
7. enable you to be a graduate who is able to improve the quality of decision-making, leadership and business practice across a range of organisations and in a variety of contexts, and demonstrate their language capabilities as well as intercultural awareness.

You are supported initially in the use of guided learning strategies in Level 4 developing towards autonomous, well-judged use of collaborative and independent learning strategies in Levels 5 and 6.

Throughout the programme you will be introduced to a range of different teaching and learning strategies. For example in Level 4 you will undertake simulation based learning (Ventures in Entrepreneurship) in which we use a computer based simulation to develop your business skills through developing your awareness of market forces and the decision making process you may require as a manager. At Level 5 (for example) there will be evidence of practice based learning in which you will be expected to engage in practical based activities as you develop your skills, while also developing skills in managing projects (Research Methods and Project Management. Finally at Level 6 you will demonstrate your skills through practice and enquiry based learning giving you the opportunity to develop creative and innovative solutions to problems through and Leadership, Innovation and Change. Your language based skills will be developed throughout the programme. For all students except those on BSL this will include the compulsory period abroad in which it is hoped that your language skills will improve exponentially, alongside intercultural awareness, understanding and competence.

¹ Students must take 40 credits from either: a) Dissertation or; b) Developing a Business Research Project and Business Research Project or; c) Developing an Organisational Based Project and Organisational Based Project or d) Business Creation Project

You will undertake a variety of assessments which include the use of written assignments (often in the form of reports), individual and group presentations, exams and tests, and practical activities. An essential part of the assessment is to encourage both learning and the development of skills as well as preparing you for the requirements of the workplace.

You will have opportunities for formative assessment and feedback to inform your work prior to submission and you will receive detailed feedback on assessments to help you develop and continuously improve your performance whilst on the programme. Advice will be provided in relation to development, further areas for research and guidance on how to enhance your knowledge of business and practice.

You will have the opportunity for study support including academic writing and research skills to enhance employability and career development in the field of Business Management.

Progression and Graduation Requirements

The University's general regulations for undergraduate awards apply to this programme.

Any modules that must be passed for progression or award are indicated in the Programme Structure section.

Students who achieve the standard requirements for an honours degree who do not achieve the compulsory for award modules will be awarded the degree of BA(Hons) Business Administration.
